

September 11 Book Drive

compiled by Alison Weisman based on an article from the Bolles website

To pay tribute to the victims of the September 11 terrorist attacks on America, The Bolles School collected new and lightly-used children's books. The books were given to the Learn to Read, Inc.'s S.T.A.R program, which is devoted to family literacy.

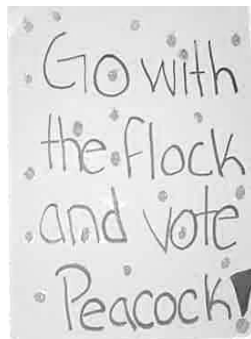

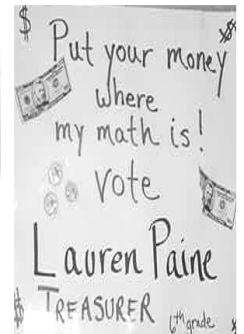

"The ultimate goal of this service project was to honor the victims of the September 11 terrorist attacks on America by doing something that would impact our community for the better," said Bartram program director Mrs. Witt. "We wanted to remember a national tragedy and respond with concern for others through a small act of generosity that would greatly improve many lives."

Thank you for bringing in your books!
