

Play-Doh just missed the countdown, ranking at number 11

Vh1's: I Love TOYS!

By Stephanie DiLoreto

From March 6th to 10th, Vh1 continued its I Love series with a 5-hour show I Love TOYS! which counted down the coolest, greatest, and most famous toys EVER!

One of the random things I noticed in the show was that 38 Hasbro toys made the countdown! They must have had some pretty sweet toys over the years. There were also some that I thought should have done better, including Candy Land, Etch-A-Sketch, Play-Doh, Twister, and Walkie Talkies. Overall it was a fantastic show and brought back tons of memories.

Here are the top 10 most amazing toys ever!

Top 10 Toys of All Times:

10. Wiffle Ball & Bat
9. Slinky
8. Yo-Yo
7. Star Wars Figure
6. Monopoly
5. Mr. Potato Head
4. G.I. Joe
3. LEGO
2. Barbie
1. Hula Hoop

Candy Land should have done so much better; it ranked 70 on the countdown. Everybody loves Candy Land!!

THE ULTIMATE ALARM CLOCKS!!!!

by MB Miranda

source: www.i-am-bored.com

One of the most dreaded things about school is waking up early. Each weekday, you have to wake up at 7:00 or sooner, drag yourself from the bed, down the staircase, and into the kitchen, leaving you mentally and physically exhausted. Well, if you're searching for something to wake you up, then look no further! Here are the top five alarm clocks to wake you up, guaranteed!!!!!!

1) From Bimbambanana.com is "the gadget of the year": the Puzzle Alarm Clock!!!! This clock is positioned each night with four puzzle pieces fit together in a precise way on top. Then, each morning when the clock is activated, it sets off a never-ending, high-pitched siren and projects the puzzle pieces around the room!! The only way to turn off the alarm is to find all of the puzzle pieces, gather them, and fit them back on clock.

2) From Latestbuy.com comes the Kuku Alarm clock!!! This clock, when triggered, starts a series of chirpings while shooting out "eggs" from itself. In order to stop the chirpings, you must find each and every egg and stuff it back inside the clock.

3) From Yankodesign.com is the Blowfly Alarm Clock!!! This clock is first put in a specially designed cage for the night. In the morning, it emits a deafening buzzing noise, escapes the cage, and flies around your room. In order for you to turn it off, you must catch the alarm clock and stuff it back in its cage.

WARNING: ONLY FOR PEOPLE WITH FAST REFLEXES

4) From Aarontang.net is the science-lover alarm clock: the Anemone Alarm Clock!!!! This clock rumbles intensely, making it harder to find the off button. It then bounces away from you, making you get out of bed and chase it around the room. When the clock is captured, it actually shakes you awake!

5) From Comforthouse.com is the Wake and Shake Alarm Clock!!!! This clock features a loud combination of sirens and yells, and it focuses a flashing strobe light on you! It even has a vibrating pad to put under your bed to shake you awake!!

As you can see, these clocks not only provide entertainment but also efficiently wakes up the drowsiest of students. So, if you're interested in buying one, go to the site www.i-am-bored.com or log on to google.com and type in "top ten annoying alarm clocks."
