

Renegade

by Duffy Flynn

The jet black night with teeth so white
Sits on her bed with glowing green lights
She springs like a lioness for the door
Because a lizard was there on the floor

No More Baseball

by Ty Kelly

Hang my jersey in the closet
I won't need it any more
Make my last paycheck deposit
I've never been so depressed before

What once was the game I used to play
I now sit in the stands and watch
Oh how I yearn for just one more day
To be the player that was topnotch

Powerful Things Are Wonderful

by Veeraen Jonnalagadda

Powerful things are wonderful,
Lions and moose,
And volcanoes that burst
Fiery and loose,
Rapids and comets,
Fire in the air,
The noble strong tiger,
A fighter's critical glare.

And delicate things are wonderful,
The break of dawn,
The pause of the water
That flows till it's gone,
The flame that dies,
The sun's opening ray,
And the horse that walks on
In the calm of a everyday.
