

Flying

by Riley Olson

Oh, how I wish
I could fly
Deep into a
Midnight sky

To fly with the Birds and bees
Would be so grand;
Too bad you cannot fly
With a hand

Oh, how I wish
I could swim
Deep in the ocean
Where I wouldn't have To wear lotion

To swim with the Fish and the seahorses
Would be so grand;
Too bad you can't swim
With a hand

Hope

by Claire Cajthaml

Hope is believing
But not always seeing Hope is not just for me
Hope is for everyone

You need hope to live
Hope is something to give Hope is not just for you
Hope is for everyone

Hope is what you need
When you fall and bleed
Hope is for the whole world
Hope is for everyone

Hope, shared by all
Needed when you fall
Given to you by everyone
Hope is for everyone

It's Time to Come in for Dinner

by Sammy Honig

It's time to come in for dinner
But I'm still having fun outside
I'm just about to be the winner
Yet the game must be set aside

My mom says I have to shower
She says, "Don't trample the flowers!"
It's getting dark and I cannot see
No more can I play, says she

I have now finished playing
A smile I'm still displaying I'm finally in my bed
Laying on my pillow is my head
My eyelids are closing now
Just starting to jump over is the cow
And I finally fall asleep